

9 x Apocalypse and a Jungian Discussion

Community Event

Saturday, December 10 , 2022, 9:30am MST (via Zoom)

FREE Event

At this Zoom event, we will be showing clips from the Carport Theater's show 9 x Apocalypse, with a discussion of Carl Jung's thoughts on the archetype of the Apocalypse. We will also be sharing on the process of creating a community event based on a Jungian theme. The Zoom event will be facilitated by Kathy Keler, director of the Carport Theater. The video clips will be a sampling from 9 short performances responding to the theme of Apocalypse. Participants in the show include Christine Clawley, Melinda Dorling, John Drinkwater, Charles Gillispie, Sarah MacMillan, Lauren Raine, Nanette Robinson, Sarah Pleydell, Marnie Sharp, Tony Woellner and Jungin Yee.

some performers from 9 X Apocalypse, L to R:
Marnie Sharp, John Drinkwater, Melinda Dorling, Christine Clawley, Tony Woellner and Nanette Robinson

The Carport Theater, a community performance venue in the North Dodge neighborhood of Tucson, has been presenting multi-media community events for over ten years. Recently, the focus has been on Jungian themes, and last year they presented Anima/Animus 2.0 at the Sea of Glass in downtown Tucson, funded by a grant from the Arts Foundation for Tucson and Southern Arizona. The current show got its initial inspiration from Edward Edinger's book Archetype of the Apocalypse.

Our live showing of 9 x Apocalypse was shared with a small audience on December 3, and recorded for the presentation on Zoom the week after.

Form more information on the Carport Theater, please visit:

<http://carporttheater.com>